

Straumann® Original.

No compromises.

When inserting implants and carrying out their prosthetic restoration, detail is crucial. Your workmanship plays a key role in this process as do the products that are used. And with an ever-increasing number of these products, how can you tell if a restoration uses a copycat or an original?

The connection between implant and abutment is critical for treatment success. For this reason, all of our abutments which would ultimately remain in the patient's mouth are endorsed with the following seal of quality:

Look for the Straumann® Original seal of quality:

「 Use your expertise to produce something unique. 」
「 Rely on the quality of original components. 」
